DIBBERN IN FRANCE

IN CITY BARRACKS IN MUSTERING DEPARTMENT. WANTS CANDY

Somewhere in France,
March 15, '18.

Dearest Mother and Dad:

I have not written to you for the last few days for the reason that we were traveling and it was exceedingly inconvenient to write, and I will say that I am settled for a while in a line of work in which I am very much interested.

If I may say it, we are stationed in one of the beautiful cities of France and I like it very much. We have the freedom of the city and it depends upon the principles of the men to conduct themselves right; and let me say they have done so. All the fellows are fine, the food is good, likewise the sleeping accommodations. We have barracks and I want to lay special emphasis on the food. I was surprised, as I didn't expect it, and all in all I am immensely pleased with everything. We were issued a new Parisian cap (abandoning our campaign hat) and it is very neat.

I am working in the mustering office every day in the working week, three nights and Sunday morning. But I enjoy it very much.

We exercise in the parade court three mornings a week while the band plays, and it sure is great.

It is hard to say what the whole of France is, but I would imagine it is very similar to that we passed, being mostly farming land and beautiful farms at that, many canals and stone houses. A carpenter would have a hard time getting work on buildings here. Except for the buildings it reminds me very much of California as we traveled by. The sun was shining all the time. The railroads are very quaint; they are about 75 years behind time. The money is also queer, 20 cents in our money is equal to one franc over here, but the money value is not hard to get on to. I bought a loaf of French war bread the other evening for 1 franc 2 sous (1 cent, 1 sou) and it was great.

Well, dear folks at home, the Yanks are certainly giving the Huns the devil as we are in the home of reports. No wonder they hate us as anyone will hate a victorious enemy.

Well, dear ones, I will let off now and for goodness sake send some home-made candy, as I hear we are allowed to have shipped over seven pounds a week, and wrap it in a strong package, as it will have to stand a lot of rough treatment. If it is fudge, leave it in a big flat chunk and wrap it well so it won't break.

I am well and feeling fine, much like a prince. With best love.

Your son,
OWEN S. DIBBERN.

PATRIOTIC FUNCTION

A function which will be important as a social affair and also from a patriotic standpoint will be the supper which will be given by Unity Chapter R. A. M. at 6:30 April 24th. This will be a farewell for R. W. Masters, High Priest of the Royal Arch and Senior Warden of Blue Lodge, who is going east. The tickets will be 50 cents a plate and the proceeds will be invested in Liberty Loan bonds. As it is important that the committee in charge should know how many will be present, intending guests are urgently requested to make their reservations not later than Tuesday, April 23d. The committee consists of Charles L. Peckham, Thomas D. Ogg, Roy V. Hogue.

ENTERTAIN EASTERN GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Van Alstine and their guest, Mrs. Florence Beebe, report two pleasant days this week in taking Mitchell, South Dakota friends over the pleasant auto drives in and about Glendale.

Wednesday their guests were Hon. and Mrs. A. E. Hitchcock, who are in the southland for a portion of their winter's tour, and Thursday Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Bidwell, who have spent the winter at Hotel Clark.

The Hitchcocks and Bidwells will leave for Mitchell the first of the week via indirect routes, but will probably return to Southern California next winter.

ART AND TRAVEL SECTION

The Art and Travel Section of the Tuesday Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles Turck Monday, April 22nd, at 2 p. m. Monaco, the smallest principality in Europe, will be the subject of discussion. It contains an area of but eight square miles and has a population of 15,000. It has been ruled by a scion of the house of Grimaldi since the tenth century.

FINE SHOWING

SEWING DEPARTMENT EXHIBIT AT UNION HIGH ATTRACTS MUCH ATTENTION

The very successful exhibit of pictorial and domestic arts at the High School terminated Friday evening and the constant stream of visitors who came to inspect the work demonstrated the great interest which citizens have in these branches of the school curriculum.

The domestic science department, particularly sewing and millinery, was of special interest to many visitors who examined with pride and wonder the excellent work which students have done under the supervision of Mrs. Bement, head of the department, and Miss Matley, her assistant.

About 150 regular students are enrolled in this department, which is not wholly confined to High School students but is a community affair open to any woman who chooses to avail herself of its educational opportunities. Twenty-seven matrons are listed as special students and come afternoons with their domestic problems. Not the least interesting feature of the display was the garments which have been made by these special students, some of them old-style suits which have been remodeled into up-to-the-minute costumes.

The first work of the girls when they enter the school as freshmen is the manufacture of aprons. The samples on view show that the majority had been well grounded in needlework in the grammar school, as they are very neat specimens. Glendale is a cosmopolitan city, however, recruited from all parts of the country and there is always a percentage of girls who have not received this preparatory instruction in the schools whence they come. But under the careful training they receive with the competitive stimulus of their fellow students, they soon make good in spite of the fact that but two periods a day, or ten hours a week, are allowed for this work.

In their preliminary work the girls make underwear, and much of the lingerie on exhibit was as dainty as any woman could wish. It was embellished for the most part with hand-made knitted or crocheted lace, but beautiful hand embroidery was not lacking. As the girls advance and gain confidence they manufacture gowns for themselves and these in great variety were on exhibition. The majority were of wash cotton materials and showed taste and judg-

GERMAN IN GLENDALE SCHOOLS

It was indeed a surprise to many persons who were present at the Federated Bortherhood of the Churches of Glendale at the cafeteria room of the High School Friday evening to read on the program on the wall that the German language is being taught in the Glendale schools. There is no one doubts the loyalty to the United States Government of the school trustees and the teachers of the school, but there is a patriotic neglect on the part of some one in not having the study of German stricken from the course many months ago.

It now comes to light that the universal teaching of German in universities, colleges and high schools in years past has been a part of the German propaganda, and such propaganda has been fathered by German professors in the higher institutions of learning who have inculcated German ideas into the minds of men and women coming under their influence.

For the very reason that German professors of higher colleges insist that a knowledge of the German language be an entrance requirement into higher instittuions of learning, should be the very reason that patrons of high schools should see to it that such German propaganda will not receive endorsement from the high schools. The time has come when there is no half way position on an important question like this.

DEATH OF BASIL BOON

Basil O. Boon, a former resident of the Tropico section of this city, died near Brawley April 18th at the age of 22 years. Left to mourn his death are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Boon, and a brother, Tolliver Boon.

The Boon family lived in Tropico about three years, during which period Basil attended the Union High School, from which he was graduated. The family moved to Brawley, which has been their home for something over two years.

Funeral services will be held at the Little Church of the Flowers Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Scovern, Letton & Frey having charge, and interment will be made in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

LULL IN FLANDERS AND PICARDY

BRITISH COUNTER ATTACK AT FESTHUBERT AND GIVENCHY, THROWING ENEMY BACK

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, April 20.—British troops successfully counter attacked at Festhubert and Givenchy on the southern edge of the Flanders field, throwing the Germans back from both positions they had gained in the British lines two days ago.

South of the Scarpe the British conducted minor successful enterprises, taking prisoners, nine machine guns and a trench mortar.

Early last night an enemy counter attack was repulsed.

For the first time since the German drive began in Flanders on April 9, there is a lull on both sides of the Flanders and Picardy fronts. All official statements agree that there has been no infantry action.

Other important changes in the British high staff are rumored.

FIGHT OVER CHAMBERLAIN BILL

"CONSTITUTIONAL LAWYERS" AND DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE OPPOSE SPY MEASURE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, April 20.—An intensely bitter fight is impending over the Chamberlain bill, which would give military authorities control of the trial and punishment of spies and enemy propagandists.

A part of the opposition is from the "constitutional lawyers" in Congress, who declare the bill will deny American citizens their fundamental right of trial by jury, for the measure applies equally to aliens and citizens.

The Department of Justice also opposes the bill. Attorney General Gregory declared that the department can cope with the situation if given a little more definite power.

POTTER MAY HEAD AIRCRAFT BOARD

CIVILIAN DIRECTOR OF THE AVIATION SECTION OF THE SIGNAL CORPS MAY BE NAMED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, April 20.—W. C. Potter, civilian director of the aviation section of the Signal Corps, may head the reorganized Aircraft Board, officials indicated this afternoon.

It is intimated that President Wilson favors Potter for this position, in view of the broad experience he has attained in connection with his present duties.

Others mentioned for this post are Edward R. Stettinius, Lieut. Col. H. N. Billesby of the signal corps and Henry Ford.

Violent artillery bombardment is in progress along the entire front.

"We made successful assaults, taking some prisoners east of Rheims in the Argonne sector," the report stated.

"West of Butte du Mesnil, where the American artillery is stationed, enemy attacks were repulsed.."

ENTERPRISE OF GLENDALE MEN

Messrs. Ralph L. Hinckley, Guy B. Hinckley and Alva W. Beach have bought three and one-third acres, located on Southern Pacific R. R. and Verdugo street, part of the Klatcher property, from R. O. Church and will at once start the erection of a canning factory thereon. They will put up tomatoes this year only, as they can not get machinery in time for fruit, but expect this coming year to can fruit also.

The building this year will be 60 by 180 feet and will consist of enough machinery to take care of 100 to 125 tons of tomatoes per day. They will take the tomatoes regardless of size, provided they are of good quality, as the smaller tomatoes will be made into concentrated tomatoes or puree. When the tomato season is over they will can pumpkin.

This will give employment to about 90 people daily, working in two eight hour shifts.

The tomatoes will be put up under the label of Burbank. This word will feature the brand.

S. L. Stevenson, who is connected with the factory and who will act as superintendent, is staying at Elizabeth Hotel and will return to Burbank to look after the interest of the factory.

This promises to be a thriving business. With tomatoes being contracted for at from $15.00 to $18.00 a ton, and the yield around ten tons to the acre, the grower should realize good returns.

Work on the factory will start very soon.—Burbank Review.

Messrs Hinckley and Beach reside in Glendale, the former being in the hardware and plumbing business in Hollywood and the latter is one of the directors of the Bank of Glendale.

FEDERATION BANQUET

MEN OF BROTHERHOODS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING AT HIGH SCHOOL CAFETERIA

The annual meeting of the Federated Brotherhoods of the churches of Glendale was held Friday evening, April 19th, in the cafeteria of the High School at 7 o'clock. The banquet was very nicely served by the ladies of the Lutheran Church. The cafeteria is well equipped for entertaining a large number of people at an occasion like this and the ladies made excellent use of the equipment in giving first class service in all particulars.

Dr. I. H. Durfee, chairman of the federation, presided in his usual able manner and very clearly explained to those present in his introductory remarks the function of this organization. He said it is the work of the Brotherhood to be alert at all times to see that the home, the nation and the individual are kept so nearly as possible in the paths of rectitude and that everything possible be done that every citizen be as nearly a model man as possible.

Arthur G. Lindley presented several resolutions, one of them thanking the trustees of the Glendale Union High School for granting the Brotherhood the use of the cafeteria for the evening, and one thanking the ladies of the Lutheran Church for their excellent service.

This being the time for the annual election of officers, the name of Dr. I. H. Durfee was presented by Rev. Hoskyn as a logical candidate to succed himself as president. Dr. Durfee was elected by unanimous vote.

The chairman then introduced Judge Curtis D. Wilbur, Associate Judge of the Supreme Court, who in his introduction explained some of the workings of the federal courts. He made quite clear to those present that Southern California is in need of a greater number of Supreme Court Judges. He said there are now 1500 cases on the calendar and there are only an average of 200 cases tried a year, so at that rate it will take more than seven years to get all the cases tried that are now on the docket, and of course during the seven years there will be many new cases brought up.

Judge Wilbur's address was mainly concerned with war conditions. He devoted most of his time to giving the characteristics of the Germans as a military people. He said the Germans have been educated to believe that might is right and if in their nation lies the power to conquer other nations it is right that they should do so. He also explained that the atrocities that are committed by the German soldiers and officers should not be charged to the individuals committing them but against German militarism, because it is the theory of the highest military authorities in Germany that they should have people of other nations fear them, and the Germans as a nation are eager to give publicity to the fact that their soldiers destroy property and take the lives of the innocent that such publicity may be the means of preventing others from putting obstacles in their way.

The speaker gave many practical hints as to the life of the soldier and stated that Germany is afraid of the

WISTARIA SHOP

Last Monday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turck took a party to Scenic Point in Sierra Madre to see the beautiful wistaria vine now in bloom there, which is said to be the finest, most wonderful wistaria in California. A Red Cross Shop has been established in its shade which will remain there during the period of bloom, as it is a mecca of beauty worshippers from all over Southern California. The ladies in charge of the shop, which serves ice cream, tea, cake, etc., informed Mrs. Turck that the Sunday receipts were over $200.

MOTORMAN EXONERATED

Six Glendale men were summoned for an inquest over the remains of Miss Rachel Sherer and Mrs. Sarah Coleman, which was held by Coroner Hartwell at the undertaking parlors of Scovern, Letton & Frey Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and exonerated the motorman from blame.

The testimony of witnesses showed that at the time the two women were killed the only persons on the Pacific Electric car by which they came to their death were Motorman J. C. Carter of Los Angeles, who was the only witness of the accident, Conductor C. E. Straight of 826 Ethel street, this city, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McGillis of 205 Lomita avenue, Charles Rittenhouse of 125 East Eighth street, and a car cleaner. All testified that the motorman had received the signal to stop the car at Belmont and that he was retarding the speed of the car preparatory to making the stop; that the conductor and Mr. and Mrs. McGillis were at the rear of the car, Mr. and Mrs. McGillis intending to alight at Belmont, where Mr. Rittenhouse, who had signalled for the stop, was also to leave it; that Mr. Rittenhouse was on the front platform and lifting the gate on the righthand side for the purpose of making his exit; that he, Mr. Rittenhouse, had no speech with the motorman and that he did not see the accident but felt the bump and jar and knew something was beneath the wheels. The motorman testified that he observed the women on the lefthand side of the street in advance of the car walking in a diagonal direction as if intending to cross the track, that he tapped his bell once and they stopped and he thought they intended to wait for the car to pass and then, just as the car got to them, they started to run and he saw them on the track in front of the car. He stated that he had been a railroad man most of his life in the service of steam railroad companies, that he had been in the service of the Pacific Electric since last September as an extra or special, and that he had had previous experience as a motorman. He further stated that it was his opinion when the accident occurred that the ladies got confused when the car approached them and supposed it was on the track on which they were walking, that they started to run and went in front of the oncoming car instead of away from it. He and all others testified that the speed of the car was about 15 miles an hour. He also testified that he had no speech with Mr. Rittenhouse or anyone else while approaching Belmont street. The deliberations of the jury were brief and their verdict was: "Death by unavoidable accident."

Funeral services, which were very largely attended, were held over the remains of Miss Sherer this morning at 10 o'clock at the Glendale Presbyterian Church. They were conducted by her pastor, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, and interment was made in Grand View Cemetery, Burbank. Services for Mrs. Coleman were held at 11:30 o'clock at the parlors of Scovern, Letton & Frey, which were also conducted by Mr. Edmonds. Mrs. Coleman was a native of England, was married to Mr. Coleman in California about 25 years ago and resided in Glendale until the death of her husband about eight years ago. She is survived by two nephews, E. H. and Irving Taylor of Los Angeles, and is also mourned by two stepchildren, S. E. Coleman and Miss L. J. Coleman of Los Angeles.

BRAHM VAN DEN BERG CONCERT

Contributed by Mrs. Mabel Ashton Bosserman

When Abraham Rosen presented the piano virtuoso, Mr. Brahm van den Berg in recital Friday evening, little did those who were assembled dream they were to hear a much greater pianist today than when last heard in concert two years ago. The retirement of Mr. van den Berg two years ago and the hours of seclusion in what has been concentrated study in the art of pianoforte music, was fully revealed by those who where fortunate enough to hear this artist last evening.

When we say "greater pianist today," it means something to the musician who knows, for in 1906 when van den Berg came to this country and located in Chicago the critics heralded him as the greatest addition in musical circles for the year. Van den Berg was known in all Europe as a great artist and America was ready to receive him. Van den Berg, who received recognition at the age of twelve in the great cities of Europe, has ever been climbing upwards in his art, and although a young artist today, stands as one of the few great pianists in the world. Last evening Glendale was fortunate again to have such a recital given in her midst, and the true music lovers were there and received the inspiration which will live within, as those outside the circle will never know.

The concert was a great success, not as for dollars and cents, but for the art itself, which only the artist knows. The giving of the art, as was the receiving, was all that could be asked for, and this from artist to audience was complete in the program of last evening.

inventive genius of the men of America.

At the close of Judge Wilbur's address he was extended a vote of thanks.

The following resolution was introduced by the secretary, Rev. E. Hoskyn, and received almost the unanimous support of those present.

Resolved, That we, the members of the Federated Brotherhood of Glendale, comprising the men of all the evangelical churches of Glendale and Casa Verdugo, do hereby pledge our absolute loyalty to our Federal Government during these trying days caused by the great war for human liberty forced upon the world by an outlaw nation, and that while we do not approve of citizens taking the law into their own hands and inflicting drastic punishment on traitors and enemies, we feel that as true patriots we must be ever on the alert to detect and report to proper authorities any person guilty of giving aid and comfort to our enemies by disloyal words or acts, or showing an unwillingness to participate in the various activities we may be called upon by our government to help in from time to time.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Brotherhood that the teaching of the German language should be eliminated from the course of study in our public schools without delay; and that there should be no loyal college or university in the land that would deprive any student of his or her rights by reason of the elimination of that language from his course of study.

CELESTIAL CONVERSATIONS

In his epistle to the Philippians the Apostle Paul uses this expression, "For our conversation is in heaven." A long-distance conversation that outrivals the long-distance telephone or ocean cable. The biographies of consecrated men and women from the days of the Apostle Paul down to our own times contain remarkable instances of celestial conversations. Very few realize the potent influence that has been exerted on the human race through this medium, or we would most diligently inquire into the principle involved. Considerable time and energy have been expended in discussing minor phases, such as the proper attitude in prayer, the favorite forms of prayer, the language to be employed in prayer, whose prayers the God of Heaven will listen to and whose not, where prayer should be offered and where not.

These questions are all answered in the unerring guide to things divine. Read Luke 18:9-14, Christ's parable of the Pharisee and the Publican, which shows that rising superior to everything else the main qualification of effectual prayer is the proper attitude of spirit. The Pharisee was self righteous, his own savior. In striking contrast the Publican was humble, "would not lift up as much as his eyes unto heaven." He felt the need of a savior and addressed his petition direct, without any human intervention, to the source that never turns any away empty. Jerry Macauley, Mel Trotter and a host of active Christian workers, especially in our large cities, can testify to celestial conversations and changed lives. The simplicity of it makes it accessible to everyone in need. The toiler in factory or mine, the wounded soldier boy in hospital or on battlefield, the hopeless sailor on sea. "Whosoever" embraces all. This is the glad tidings the Y. M. C. A. and Salvation Army are carrying to the front. W. F. TOWER.

LET THE NATION BOW IN PRAYER

Far overseas a battle rages,
Fiercest conflict of all ages.
Bold tyranny with hellish thrust
Would trample nations in the dust.
Justice and mercy both have flown
Where rules the sacrilegious Hun.
Earth's freedom in the balance hangs
While cannons roar and saber clangs.
"Land of the free, home of the brave,"
To us they turn the cause to save.
Sure of the right, we heed the call,
For freedom's cause we risk our all;
Husbands and sons, staff of our years,
Lay on the altar, bathed in tears,
Our hoarded wealth, our fields of grain,
Till peace on earth again shall reign.
Then let the nation bow in prayer
While soldiers battle "over there."
"God of the gift of liberty,
Lead on, lead on to victory."

METAMORPHOSIS

Representatives of the musical-instrument industry, including piano manufacturers, have been in conference with the United States Fuel Administration and War Industries Board.

An agreement has been reached by which a curtailment of 30 per cent of the output will be made during April and May.

Meanwhile, these manufacturers will confer with the War Industries Board and arrange for the transfer of war work to the musical-instrument factories wherever possible.

The musical-instrument industry is a very large one and important to the economic life of the country. It is also well adapted to take on a part of the production necessary for war.

It will be the aim of the Government to effect the necessary economies in connection with this industry just as far as possible by a transference of work.

This will obtain for the country the full economic value of the industry investment and equipment and at the same time limit the output of its product not needed for the war to such an extent as seems necessary.

Personals

Mrs. C. B. Orne of Colorado Springs and her sister, Mrs. Phipps of Long Beach, are guests of Dr. and Mrs. Hogue, 138 South Orange street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Condy, of Boston, spent Tuesday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turck of Glendale avenue. It was a farewell visit, as they leave Wednesday for their summer home in Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Windrem, who have been living at 1516 Burchett street, have removed to Pasadena and Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Colson have returned to their home, which the Windrems were occupying.

Harold Colson, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Colson of 1516 Burchett street, has enlisted in the naval reserve and is at present at Goat Island, San Francisco. Harold had previously served four years in the navy.

Mrs. John White Garber of Denver, formerly Miss Irene Read, is here for an extended visit with her father and sisters at their home, 401 North Central avenue. This afternoon she will be guest of honor at a "cousin tea" which will be served at the Read home.

The last card party of the season for Eastern Stars and their friends will be given Thursday evening, April 25th, at the Masonic Temple. The committee in charge consists of Mesdames C. Harry Woolsey, Orma Naudain, Blanche Peterson, and Fred Deal. It is hoped that all members will be present at this last social function of the organization.

Mrs. Nanno Woods, chairman of the flower and plant department at the Red Cross Shop at 318 Brand boulevard, is appealing for two more lady assistants who will undertake to have charge of her department on Saturdays, one in the forenoon, the other in the afternoon. Anyone willing to undertake this service is asked to telephone Mrs. Woods or the shop, Gl. 870-W.

H. L. Miller Co. reports the sale of a house on Arden avenue belonging to Miss Bell to Geo. J. Dinkle of Los Angeles, who is in the government mail service and is coming here to make his home. You can't keep them away from beautiful Glendale. The company put an ad for this house in the Glendale Evening News to be run six times, but two did the business. If you want business, advertise.

Mrs. Vernon Cowsert, wife of the pastor of the Glendale Baptist Church, in company with Mrs. and Miss Doxey and Mrs. Goode of this city, attended the annual meeting of the South Pacific District Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist denomination at Pasadena Thursday. Fine addresses were made and a banquet was served in the evening which was a most enjoyable affair.

A general invitation has been extended to members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale to meet with the San Fernando Ebell next Tuesday, April 23rd, the occasion being the reciprocity day of the organization. The club meets at 2:30 o'clock in the Bank auditorium on McClay and First street. Although next Tuesday will be the regular meeting of the Glendale women's organization, no doubt there will be some ladies who will desire to motor over and bring back a report to the home club.

Rich--Poor

The fact that people say a man is rich or that he believes himself to be rich doesn't prove it.

The total net estate, after a rich man has died, is frequently little or nothing.

EIGHTY-SEVEN PER CENT of all property which men leave at death is life insurance money.

A short time ago the papers announced the death of Jos. B. Martindale, President of the Chemical National Bank of New York, who, it is reported, received a salary of $50,000 a year. After the creditors finished with the estate, a $3000 fraternal insurance policy was all that was left for a widow and daughter!

An income of $100 a month, or even $50 a month in "The Provident" will be a fine, sure estate to leave to your family. Talk to me about it.

The program, which is of unusual merit, begins at 3:30 sharp and will be presented by the following artists: Mrs. Willoughby Walker, coloratura soprano, of the D'Oyly Carte Opera Co., London, Eng., William E. Sackett, pianist, late of the New England Conservatory of Music, and W. H. P. Hayman, baritone.

FEDERAL BANKS WILL HELP FARMERS BUY TRACTORS

Federal reserve banks are to rediscount notes secured by farm tractors, the United States Department of Agriculture announces. Instructions have been issued by the Federal Reserve Board to all Federal reserve banks authorizing them to rediscount tractor paper presented by any member bank, provided it has maturity not exceeding six months and the tractors are purchased for agricultural purposes.

This action of the Federal Reserve Board, explains the department, means that notes given for farm tractors will be treated in the same manner as other agricultural paper, thus making it easier for farmers to obtain tractors where needed.

MOTHERS' CLUB MEETS

The Mothers' Club of the Acacia avenue school met Friday afternoon and enjoyed a musical program. Mrs. Gibson, Director of Music in the High School, gave a paper on music and what the High School is doing for students in that line of education. By way of illustration and demonstration, several charming songs composed by High School students were sung with fine effect by Miss Esterly. Miss Paxton from Burbank then gave three fine piano numbers and after the customary business had been transacted the customary refreshments were served. There was an excellent attendance and it was voted one of the pleasantest meetings the club has held.

APPRECIATION

Committee managers of the Conservation Department for Belgian and French Relief, which is under the jurisdiction of the Junior Red Cross, wish to thank in this public way the men who so generously cooperated with J. B. McClellan in furnishing the lumber and the labor for the manufacture of six large tables which they have donated to the Conservation Department.

FEDERAL FARM LOANS

A report made by the Treasury Department of the United States Government on the first year of operation of Federal Farm Loans, contains the following interesting and significant statements:

"Before the system was put in operation it was argued that our American farmers would not organize for co-operative borrowing. The answer to this seems to be found in the fact that up to March 31, 1918, 2,808 national farm loan associations were incorporated, representing about four associations to each five counties in the United States. These associations average about 20 members, representing a total membership of about 56,000 farmers.

"The 12 Federal land banks have received applications for over 120,000 loans, amounting to about $300,000,000. Many of these applications have been rejected, reduced, or withdrawn. About 80,000 loans have been approved, amounting to over $160,000,000, and on over 30,000 of these loans money has been paid to the farmers to the amount of about $80,000,000. Many of the loans approved were for reduced amounts, which the borrowers declined to accept.

ment highly creditable, but in the display of more advanced work were silk and wool garments as pretty as could be found in the stores and of much better workmanship.

The millinery section had a special fascination for most guests and here specimens were present for inspection which showed all stages of progress from the paper model first prepared, through the stages of making the buckram or wire foundation to the finished hat.

Conscientious instruction is given by Mrs. Bement and her assistant, but she as conscientiously refrains from helping students with their work, believing it is better to develop their self reliance and resourcefulness. The hats were astonishingly good and demonstrate that any girl student of Union High School, if she will improve her opportunities, can fit herself to be independent of dressmakers and milliners. Occasionally Mrs. Bement makes a hat to serve as a model and inspiration, or to demonstrate the use of unusual materials, but in most instances the girls select pictured designs and then visualize them in real materials. There is probably no department of the school which is of more service to the community than this which is teaching the girls and women of Glendale how to conserve money and materials.

A special exhibit was the war work which the girls have been doing in the manufacture of layettes for Belgian babies. There were twenty-five of these dainty sets, each including dress, jacket, bib, petticoat, bonnet, and nightgown.

The first of May the department will start reconstruction garment work for war relief. This will include the mending and remodeling of garments and materials collected by the salvage department of the Junior Red Cross and furnished by the Conservation Committee. In this effort the skill of the students will be utilized in a work in which helpers are greatly needed and it will be done under the intelligent supervision of Mrs. Bement and Miss Matley, who are greatly interested in this department of war service.

GERMAN LIES

Charles J. Perkins has some interesting bulletins issued by the Chamber of Commerce of Paris, France, in which the false figures published by Germany in connection with comparisons of losses of airships of the allies and of herself, and losses by submarine warfare, are reviewed and shown up. The bulletin, which bears a February date, states:

"According to the German Admiralty's reports, the losses of the Allies during the first half-year of 1917 were 40 per cent and for the second 60 per cent of the total tonnage. Facts go to prove on the contrary that the losses caused by submarine warfare are on the decrease, for the 42 weeks of 'sinking-at-sight' piracy show an irregular but continual decline in results. This is shown by the following table, drawn up from official figures in which the time taken into account is divided into six periods of seven weeks each:

Period	Attacked	Sunk
1st	405	292
2nd	528	347
3rd	415	243
4th	289	184
5th	289	198
6th	200	139

"The statistics of the traffic in Allied ports (entrances and clearances) show, too, that the deficiency caused by destruction is partly made up for by increased activity in navigation, and in shipbuilding yards. According to the New York World, 58 vessels of wood and steel are at present in course of construction in the United States, making 207,000 tons, and 345 steel ships, making 2,665,400 tons, with boats that have been purchased or commandeered, giving 2,250,000 tons, a total of more than 5,000,000 tons will be available for 1918.

"The gradual improvement in means of defense must also be taken into account, such as the arming of merchant vessels; convoying and escorting ships; the camouflage of vessels and the use of smoke-producing apparatus etc.

"The Gazette Lausanne is right in affirming that: 'submarine warfare is a cruel deception for the German people.' By way of justification the Imperial Government has assured them that its inevitable consequences would be to starve England into suing for peace within a few months. However, up till now, the only decisive factor resulting from these barbarous measures has been the entrance of the United States into the war, bringing with them fresh and valuable assistance to the cause of the Allies."

IF YOU KNEW

that saving the life of an American Sammie from being gassed by the Huns depended on your buying 48 War Savings Stamps at 25 cents each wouldn't you be willing to make some sacrifice to prevent such a calamity?

—Or, if you realized that some American soldier would be deprived of a rifle unless you bought 78 stamps, or that he couldn't be furnished 100 cartridges without your taking 20 stamps; or that he might be mortally wounded because of lack of a steel helmet that could be purchased from proceeds of 12 stamps—wouldn't you stretch a point to obtain this equipment for him?

OF COURSE YOU WOULD!

PATRIOTIC HOTEL MEN

Following up the pledge given by 500 leading hotel and restaurant men from all parts of the country that they would banish wheat in every form from their establishments until released from that pledge, the United States Food Administration has suggested to Federal food administrators and to State hotel chairmen a method of separating the "no-wheat" eating places from the others, which, it is believed, will protect those patriotic hotel men who gave their pledge from unfair competition on the part of rivals in business.

Public eating places and clubs are divided into two general classes:

Class one includes all high-grade hotels and restaurants which, in the opinion of the hotel chairman for each State, could follow to the letter the pledge adopted by managers and proprietors at their meetings in Washington and New York. All clubs and dining cars should come under this classification. A list is to be prepared by the Federal food administrator and the hotel chairman, in conjunction with the latter's committee, of all hotels, restaurants, and clubs in each State which, in the opinion of this committee should be able to carry out the terms of the resolution, and to the manager of each of these establishments a copy of the resolution is to be sent, with a letter advising him of the action taken in New York and requesting him to join with all others in this classification in making the application of this resolution general. Dining cars will be handled separately in Washington. It is asked that lists of those who agree to live up to the resolution be printed prominently in all newspapers, where possible.

Class two, including all other public eating places, must be governed by the new wheat conservation program, which means that they shall adopt a maximum ration of wheat flour (or its wheat equivalent contained in such products as victory bread, macaroni, wheat breakfast cereals, etc.), of 6 pounds of wheat flour for every 90 meals served. In addition thereto, they shall not serve in the aggregate a total of any products containing more than 2 ounces of wheat flour to any one guest at any one meal.
